MILITARY SAYINGS AND DOINGS.

OFFICERS ELECTED—A MEMORABLE INSPECTION—COMING ENTERTAINMENTS.

There was a sharp contest over the election of a captain in Company G, 6th Regiment, last Tuesday evening to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Captain Alfred Chamberlain. The first lieutenant, of the company, Frederick S. Rice, and the second lieutenant, Washington Willcocks, were the candidates. Lieutenant Willcocks was elected, receiving twenty-two votes, while his opponent had only eleven. The new captain joined the company as a private on July 26, 1876, was made a sergeant on July 13, 1883, and has been second lieutenant since February 17, 1885.

The officers and men of the 7th Regiment are justly proud of the admirable showing made at the annual inspection of the command last Tuesday evening. The spirit that animates the members of the regiment was shown in the attendance of all of the 1,036 men on the rolls except eighteen. Adjutant George W. Rand's official report is as follows:

	Present	Absent	Total
Field, staff and non-commissioned staff	21	0	21
Company A	103	0	103
Company B	103	0	103
Company C	99	4	103
Company D	94	2	96
Company E	103	0	103
Company F	101	2	103
Company G	103	0	103
Company H	103	0	103
Company I	103	0	103
Company K	103	0	103
Total	1,018	18	1,036

Each company had all its officers present, and the drum corps was under the command of the veteran Drum Major John Smith. The review and drill preceding the inspection were as nearly perfect as could be expected. In so large a body of men manuevered on a drill-field which, large as it is, is far from large enough to meet the requirements of such an occasion.

SIGNIFIED BY THEIR COLONEL'S VOICE.

The familiar voice of Colonel Edmund Clark, once giving the commands after an absence of three months, rang clearly through the hall, calling forth the best efforts of the men. It was the thirty-first annual inspection of the regiment at which Colonel Clark has been present. He called on January 22, 1887, and has never missed an inspection.

The rough element in Company F, 7th Regiment, has had a hard time since the inspection. There have been several discharges and expulsions and one re-enlistment to the ranks by Captain J. A. H. Dressel, who since he took hold of the company last spring has greatly improved its tone. There are forty good men in the company now and a boom in recruiting predicted.

The instruction given to the officers of the 10th Regiment every Monday evening recently has had special reference to the out-door drill of the command in general Brownell's Street Riot Tactics to take place on the evening of December 6. The presentation of the "faithful service" medals will be made on the same evening.

Company E, 22d Regt., Captain Nathaniel H. Thorne, has ninety-one names on its rolls and is the largest company in the regiment. It ranks high for drill, discipline and attendance.

PREPARING FOR THEIR ANNUAL DINNER.

The annual dinner of the board of officers of the 12th Regiment will take place on the evening of December 7. Colonel Jones, who has recently returned after a prolonged absence, will preside.

Men were sent by the Department of Public Works last week to examine the heating apparatus in the armory of the 5th Regiment, with a view to putting it in order. It looks as if some attention was being paid to the needs of this long-neglected regiment.

There are over seventy-five men uniformed and drilling in recruit squad of the 5th Regiment, and drilling in recruit squad of the 7th Regiment, who are not yet enlisted and cannot be, until there are vacancies in the companies that seek to join.

Company D, of the 12th Regiment, will take place on December 7, 1887, at the Lexington Avenue Opera House. It will take place on the evening of December 27, and will be a full dress affair. A musical performance and an act from "The Mikado," by the Alpha Dramatic Club, will be on the programme. Dancing will follow. The sale of boxes will take place at the armory on Wednesday evening, December 7.

The Cheeseman reception is to be given at the armory on December 7, to be held at the armory on December 27, and will be a full dress affair. A large bill will be on the programme. The armory will be closed. The regiments will command the regiment in a full dress parade, after which there will be dancing. The regiments are in the condition and is receiving many applications for membership.

THE 9TH REGIMENT WITHOUT A CHAPLAIN.

Since the retirement of the Rev. Dr. E. A. Frost from the position of Chaplain of the 9th Regiment on account of his removal to Springfield, Mass., whence he was called from his old charge, the Madison Ave., and Fifty-seventh St., Presbyterian Church, about a year ago, the command has been without a spiritual adviser. The vacancy will probably be filled by the appointment of a prominent New-York clergymen.

The 1st Battery, Captain Louis Wendel, which passed a fine inspection this year and is highly complimented by Colonel McGrath in his report upon excellence of drill, soldierly appearance and improvement since last year, will give monthly entertainments at the armory during the winter.

Company D, 22d Regiment, is hard at work in the drill-room. It is turning out, on an average, 90 percent at drills.

By the resignation of First Lieutenant William W. Chilton, of Company K, 7th Regiment, the command loses an experienced and capable officer. His military service began as a private of Company H, 37th Regt., on November 1, 1865. He joined Company K, 7th Regt., on April 24, 1885; was made a corporal on June 3, 1885, and has been First Lieutenant since January 20, 1886.

Captain John Lee, of Company L, 22d Regiment, who was recently married to Miss Isabella N. Squiers, is expected home from his wedding tour early next month. In the meantime First Lieutenant J. G. Dillendorff is in command of the company.

Captain Frederick T. Leigh, supernumerary officer, has been assigned to duty as signal officer of the 2d Brigade.

THE 13TH WILL LEAD THE FESTIVITIES.

The first of the series of promenade concerts to be given during the winter by the band of the 12th Regt. at the armory, will take place in January.

Company L, 22d Regiment, has gained seven recruits since November 1, and applications for membership are still coming in.

Company C, 69th Regiment, which won the Moran trophy, the much-desired seventh man as marksmen, last year, sixty-nine qualified in the entire regiment. This year the total number is 230. The annual supper of Company C will take place to-morrow evening.

NOTES FROM HARVARD.

RELIGIOUS ENTHUSIASM—YESTERDAYS SERVICES—THE GLEE CLUB—YESTERDAYS VICTORY.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 26.—As was stated in this issue of the Tribune of one week ago, the numerous body of zealous religious workers that Professor Drayton of Edinburgh University left behind here in Harvard University are determined not to fall back from their original course, and was maintained at dinner by Commander Greenwich of the British Legation.

The name of Sir Edward Thornton, Thomas T. Carr continues critical. On Sunday last he was so ill that his death was reported in the press, and on Monday morning he was reported as having recovered.

Mr. Henry Leyden will spend the winter at Hamilton, Bermuda.

Mr. John D. Branson and Miss Annie E. Groff were married at the Grotto Chapel on Yale Street on Saturday evening.

Thomas Duncum has been re-elected a director of the Old Colony Telephone Company.

George T. Downing lectured before the Unity Club on "Charles Sumner, his life and his times," on Tuesday evening.

REVIVING OLD MEMORIES.

At the reunion of the survivors of the 6th Regiment, New York Volunteers, on Thanksgiving Day at No. 192 Bowery, the following social order, issued at Alexandria, La., on May 15, 1863, by General William Dwight, commanding the 1st Brigade of General Grover's Division of the 10th Army Corps, was read:

STYLAR ORDERS NO. 45.
Lieutenant-Colonel CASSIUS and Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates of the Sixth Regiment, New York.

The commanding General of the Brigade cannot allow the 6th Regiment New York Volunteers to leave the Department of the Mississippi, or the State of Louisiana, without giving to them an opportunity of their returning again, and then as soldiers, during the present movement of the 15th of April, 1863, until their arrival at Alexandria on the 15th of May, 1863, an interval in which the regiment encamped, and during which they encumbered the enemy in its times, sustaining their reputation for endurance.

With regard to the Government should have lost the regiment, though the time has arrived for its members to enjoy their merited repose. By order of (Signed) Brig. Gen'l. Cassius 1st Brig'ty. Art'y Corps.

It is expected that the site of the new army of the 7th Regiment will be located near One hundred and eighteenth street and Park Avenue, and will include a suitable sum of money for the amount of money to be appropriated.

Second Lieutenant Charles Nagel has been elected junior first lieutenant of the 1st Battery. Michael Keeler, a well-made young sergeant, a Charles Keeler, August Lowe and August Becker have been elected corporals.

Sergeants Louis Leibler, Henriques, Steele, Crane, Elmer and Duran and Privates Charles E. Moore and Joe M. Moore, the former having been honorably discharged. Corporal William Costello of Company F has been reduced to the ranks.

Captain Julius J. Herbold, supernumerary officer, who has been acting as Assistant Inspector of Drills of the 6th Regiment, has been relieved from duty by order of the commander in chief.

NEW-JERSEY COAST NOTES.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE SUMMER RESORTS—REAL ESTATE SALES.

LONG BRIDGE, Nov. 26.—The real estate market along the coast is unusually active for this season of the year, and property is constantly changing hands. The few vacant lots on ocean-ave., with ocean frontage, are held at higher figures than for several years. The real estate transfers for Monmouth County for the last week aggregate at $142,000. Building is brisk at Long Branch, Elmwood, Leed Arbor, Asbury Park, Ocean Grove and other resorts on the northern half of the Jersey coast.

The Hilliards are about beginning extensive improvements on the West End Hotel property. A large wing is to be erected on the north side of their famous house, which will run out nearly to Ocean-ave. A light and airy bridge will be thrown across the avenue to the new wing to an elaborate observation tower on the bluffs.

Justin B. Clark, the new owner of the Germania house, at Asbury Park, has moved the north wing of that structure to the southwest corner of Third-ave. and Kingsley St. It will be used as annexes to the hotel. A large brick addition will be erected in its place. This wing will contain the kitchen, carriage-room, buttery, pantry, dining-room, and about fifty new bedrooms.

Norman L. Manro, the New-York publisher, has purchased the property of Preston B. Hillstone, on Ocean-ave., for $25,000. The new owner will make extensive improvements.

St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church, in Long Branch City, is being remodeled. The great Memorial Window, the gift of George W. Childs, is nearly ready for the frames. This window will be on the programme.

A large wing is being added to the west end of the Hotel New-England at Asbury Park.

Over a dozen new cottages are being erected in Harrison Square at Long Branch.

W. H. Stout is building a new cottage at Loch Arbour.

Mr. E. Maynor Wilbur A. Holsey, of the Branch, has a new cottage with wide sloping roofs, completely enclosed on three sides, and a veranda on the fourth.

Samuel Hemmings, the Methodist camp-meeting tent manufacturer of Brooklyn, has a costly new cottage at Second-ave. and Elmwood-st., Asbury Park. It is almost ready for occupancy.

Norman L. Manro, the New-York publisher, has purchased the property of Preston B. Hillstone, on Ocean-ave., for $25,000. The new owner will make extensive improvements.
